Product Description

Discharge AC Pipe OEM 97762-M6050 Hyundai Elantra 1.6L 2.0L 2018

Product Description:

Our A/C Pipes are highly flexible, making them perfect for refrigerant lines. They can easily bend and maneuver around tight spaces, making installation a breeze. The silver and black color adds a sleek touch to your A/C system, seamlessly blending in with your other components.

With a temperature range of -40 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit, these pipes are perfect for maintaining a consistent temperature in your A/C system. Whether you're looking to cool down your home or office, our A/C Pipes can handle it all. They are designed to withstand extreme temperatures and maintain their flexibility, ensuring optimal performance.

With the development of automobile technology, air conditioning piping systems are also constantly upgrading. For example, coaxial tube technology optimizes the piping structure, improves refrigeration efficiency, and reduces fuel consumption.
